2006

Art of Leadership Series

February 21-23, 2006 – San Diego, CA
September 12-14, 2006 – Location TBA

Join your colleagues for the Art of Leadership series as part of the Current and Emerging Leadership Initiative in 4-H. This professional development opportunity is expressly for

- Individuals newly hired or assigned to a key leadership role in their state or across the 4-H system
- State 4-H Program Leaders with less than 5 years in their current position

Description:

The Art of Leadership series will give you an opportunity to examine your role as a leader in one of the largest youth development organizations in the U.S. You will examine your leadership role, not just for today but into the future. For most busy program leaders, administrators, and 4-H faculty there is never enough time for reflection and planning. This session will give you that rare opportunity: to reflect on your leadership role and how you, together with other 4-H colleagues, can transform 4-H youth development.

This inspiring—and fun—series will give you a fresh perspective and renewed energy for your work and the future of 4-H.

You will leave the Art of Leadership program with:

- A better understanding of your role as a leader in the 4-H youth development program of the future
- Strategies to address issues and to better position 4-H in the future
- A sense of teamwork, trust and cohesiveness
- Expanded skills in people-management practices and leading change

Costs:

Costs are estimated at $1,100 per 3-day session or $2,200 for both sessions (over two fiscal years). This includes travel, meals, lodging and incidentals. National 4-H Headquarters, with generous support from the National 4-H Leadership Trust, is providing additional support for all presenters, assessment instruments, instructional materials and special events.
